Pregnancy Clinic in Nevada is Prepared for Post Roe

The Pro-Life, Pro-Women Reality Exposed in southern Nevada

Southern Nevada— July 25, 2022 — It is time to realize the devastation Roe vs Wade has had on women. Our nation has had 49 years to use propaganda and political tactics to cultivate a culture of death for far too long and women have been left in the shadows to bear the burden of choice with very little support. The majority of communities in our nation lack resources for pregnancy and parenting options, thus loudly advocating that abortion should be the only choice that will be supported. This is not empowerment or choice. This is coercion.

“We hear from women every day at our Clinic express that there are no alternatives other than abortion,” said Esther Caruso-Golleher, MBA, Chief Executive Officer at Women’s Resource Medical Centers, “We believe them. We exist to be their support.”

Abortion clinics are now advertising abortion medical tourism package deals with flight, hotel room and abortion services to compete with other states for the abortion business. There are even foundations established to assist women in paying for their travel to our state. Abortion access overshadows every pregnancy option in Las Vegas. In southern Nevada there are 9 abortion clinics within a 35-mile radius and only 1 full service pregnancy care clinic. Is the cry from Elizabeth Warren to shut down this pregnancy clinic really considered pro-choice or pro-woman when the statistic clearly reveals that 93% of all abortion choices are driven by economic reasons and a lack of support?

Community Impact

Women's Resource Medical Centers of Southern Nevada (WRMCSN) has been serving women in their community since 1985 providing programs, resources and support for families experiencing an unexpected pregnancy from the time they find themselves pregnant all the way up until their baby is three years old. The organization is the ONLY organization in the entire state of Nevada that offers full pregnancy, prenatal care and parenting programs free of charge without receiving a single cent from government funding sources.

Annually, the organization averages 8,000 patient visits and saves an average of 2,000 babies. The abortion business is threatened by the impact of WRMCSN's successful outcomes which only energized the organization to realize the great demand for its services and programs and launched them into a strategic plan for expansion.

National Franchise Offering

WRMCSN has always been known as one of the busiest pregnancy care facilities in our nation and because of this, they embraced the challenging effort to establish a new model of care, knowing that they have the potential to double and even triple their impact their community.

They established an all-inclusive service model that provides every program a family might need to support a decision for life. Coinciding with the new program model is a built in management system that supports efficiencies that can now allow for a higher volume of patient access to their programs. For this higher capacity, they also had to create their own software program that interacts with their patients through an app on their mobile phone and this app encourages greater participation for their personal care plan.

Upon completion of creating and implementing this new care model the organization realized that all pregnancy centers face similar growth restrictions and concluded to extend this model for every pregnancy center who has the desire to grow and every community that faces similar competition from abortion clinics.

“We already completed the hard work and in doing so, designed the path forward. Therefore, we are preparing a franchised offering to train, mentor and equip other life-saving organizations to successfully adopt our new, innovative pregnancy clinic model.” Esther Caruso-Golleher, CEO Women’s Resource Medical Centers of Southern Nevada.

This is being offered at a time when the pregnancy center movement must be strengthened nation-wide. If they are able to raise enough funding by year end, they plan to launch this offering as soon as the first quarter of the new year. To support this initiative visit; savealifeclub.com.
